	Note: Each teacher will offer one additional office hours session before school or after school -- check Blend for posted office hours.

- Synchronous = students and teachers present at the same time online; this block of time might include a live class interaction on zoom, teacher-supported work-time on a video call, scheduled online activities like discussion boards or small-group work that occurs at a specific time.
Students will log on to zoom at the beginning of each synchronous class period for a class meeting/direct instruction, but zoom calls will typically not last longer than 40 minutes.
- Student work time = self-paced work students may choose to work on during the day to meet a later deadline; students may also work with teachers to ask questions/seek clarification during this time. In addition to the office hours connected to each period, open office hours are offered Monday, Thursday, and during a morning or afternoon session announced on Blend.
